

Instructions

As a result of the 2020 Covid-19 national pandemic, many NCAA student athletes had their seasons canceled. What implications on eligibility does such an incident have? With such a large amount of athletes having an extra year of eligibility, what impacts were seen by incoming recruits and scholarships? Is this still an issue for teams? Please include any personal opinions or experience you may have.